Example 01. 다음 글의 밑줄 친 부분 중, 문맥상 낱말의 쓰임이 적절하지 않은 것은?

❶ Historical evidence points to workers being exploited by employers in the ❶ absence of appropriate laws. ❷ This means that workers are not always compensated for their ❷ contributions -for their increased productivity-as economic theory would suggest. ❸ Employers will be able to exploit workers if they are not legally ❸ controlled. ❹ Thus, the minimum wage laws may be the only way to prevent many employees from working at wages that are ❹ above the poverty line. ❺ This point of view means that minimum wage laws are a source of correcting for existing market failure, ❺ enhancing the power of markets to create efficient results.

❶ 역사적인 증거는 적절한 법이 존재하지 않을 때 노동자들이 고용주들에게 착취당한다는 것을 시사한다. ❷ 이것이 의미하는 것은, 노동자들은 그들이 기여한 부분에 대해, 즉 경제 이론이 말하고자 하는 대로, 그들의 증가된 생산성에 대해, 항상 보상받지는 못한다는 것이다. ❸ 만약 고용주들이 법적으로 제약을 받지 않는다면 노동자들을 착취할 수 있을 것이다. ❹ 따라서 최저임금법은 어쩌면 많은 노동자들이 빈곤선 아래의 임금을 받고 노동하는 것을 막는 유일한 방법일지도 모른다. ❺ 이러한 관점이 의미하는 것은, 최저임금법은 기존 시장의 실패를 바로잡는 원천으로서, 효율적인 결과를 창출하도록 시장의 힘을 높인다는 것이다.

Example 02. 다음 글의 밑줄 친 부분 중, 문맥상 낱말의 쓰임이 적절하지 않은 것은?

① It is important to remember that a misunderstanding is never ended by an argument but by a ① sympathetic desire to see the other person's view. ② As Buddha said, "Hatred is never ended by hatred but by love." ③ Here is an example: Pat Duffy was selling cars for General Motors. ④ If a buyer made a ② positive remark about the car he was selling, Pat would get upset at the customer. ⑤ He would talk back to the customer and ③ win lots of arguments, but he didn't sell many cars. ⑥ Finally, he learned to handle the customers and here is how. ⑦ If a customer said, "This GM car is no good! I would rather buy a Ford car," Pat, instead of arguing, said, "Ford cars are good, and it is a fine company." ⑧ This made the customer ④ speechless. ⑨ There was no room for argument. ⑩ Now instead of wasting time arguing about Ford cars, Pat got off that subject and ⑤ concentrated on the GM cars he was selling.

① 오해는 결코 논쟁에 의해서가 아니라, 상대방의 견해를 알고자 하는 공감의 욕구에 의해 끝난다는 것을 기억하는 것이 중요하다. ② 부처가 말했듯이 "증오는 결코 증오에 의해서가 아니라, 사랑에 의해 끝난다." ③ 하나의 예로, Pat Duffy는 General Motors를 위해 자동차를 판매하고 있었다. ④ 자신이 판매하고 있는 차에 대해 한 구매자가 부정적인 말을 하면, Pat은 그 고객에게 화가 나곤 했다. ⑤ 그는 그 고객의 말을 되받아치고 많은 논쟁에서 이기곤 했지만, 차를 많이 팔지는 못했다. ⑥ 마침내 그는 그 고객들을 대하는 법을 배웠는데, 여기 그 방법이 있다. ⑦ 고객이 "이 GM 자동차는 좋지 않아요! 저는 차라리 포드 자동차를 사겠어요."라고 말하면, Pat은 논쟁하는 대신에 "포드 자동차는 좋고, 그것은 훌륭한 회사입니다."라고 말했다. ⑧ 이것은 그 고객이 말문이 막히게 만들었다. ⑨ 논쟁의 여지가 전혀 없었다. ⑩ 이제 포드 자동차에 대해 논쟁하며 시간을 낭비하는 대신에 Pat은 그 주제에서 벗어나 자신이 판매하고 있던 GM 자동차에 집중했다.

Practice 01. 다음 글의 밑줄 친 부분 중, 문맥상 낱말의 쓰임이 적절하지 않은 것은?

❶ The City of Copenhagen has been restructuring its street network for several decades, removing driving lanes and parking places in a deliberate process to create better conditions for bicycle traffic. ❷ Year by year the inhabitants of the city have been ❶ invited to bike more. ❸ The entire city is now served by an ❷ effective system of bike paths, separated by curbs from sidewalks and driving lanes. ❹ City intersections have bicycle crossings painted in blue and, together with special traffic lights for bicycles that turn green six seconds before cars are allowed to move forward, make it considerably ❸ safer to cycle around the city. ❺ In short, a whole-hearted invitation has been ❹ denied to cyclists, and the results are reflected clearly in patterns of use. ❻ Bicycle traffic doubled in the period from 1995 to 2005, and in 2008 statistics showed that 37% of personal transport to and from work was by bicycle. ❼ The goal is to ❺ increase this percentage considerably in the years to come.

* curb 연석, 도로 경계석

❶ 코펜하겐 시는 자전거 통행에 더 나은 조건을 만들기 위한 계획적인 과정에서, 수십 년간 차로와 주차장을 없애면서 그 도시의 가로망을 재구성해 왔다. ❷ 해가 갈수록 그 도시의 주민들은 자전거를 더 많이 타도록 권유받았다. ❸ 도시 전체에는 이제 연석에 의해 보도와 차로부터 분리된 자전거 도로의 효과적인 체계가 구비되어 있다. ❹ 도시 교차로는 파란색으로 칠해진 자전거 횡단로가 있으며, 자동차의 전진이 허용되기 6초 전에 파란불로 바뀌는 자전거용 특별 신호등과 함께, 자전거를 타고 도시를 돌아다니는 것을 상당히 더 안전하게 만든다. ❺ 간단히 말하면, 자전거를 타는 사람에게 전면적인 권유가 주어졌고, 그 결과가 이용 양상에 분명하게 반영되어 있다. ❻ 1995년부터 2005년까지의 기간에 자전거 통행이 두 배로 늘었고 2008년에 출퇴근하는 개인 이동 수단의 37퍼센트가 자전거에 의한 것이었음을 통계가 보여 주었다. ❼ 목표는 앞으로 몇 년 동안 이 비율을 상당히 크게 늘리는 것이다.

① As a teacher, you will hear pupils being labelled by other teachers, and there are a lot of labels that are ① employed. ② If the label is a positive one, then that is fine and should be encouraged. ③ Sadly that is a ② rarity; it is the poorly motivated and poorly self-disciplined pupils who often end up being labelled. ④ Eventually the pupil becomes the label. ⑤ If you tell a pupil often enough that he is a disruptive influence, he will ③ surrender to the title and become it even more. ⑥ If you tell a pupil that she is a naughty little girl who constantly makes life ④ difficult for everyone, she will eventually become that even more. ⑦ These are the very pupils we need to be positively affecting and we will not achieve that by sticking a label on them and ⑤ avoiding that label at every turn.

① 교사로서, 여러분은 학생들이 다른 교사들에 의해 꼬리표가 붙여지는 것을 듣게 될 것인데, 사용되는 꼬리표는 많다. ② 만약 그 꼬리표가 긍정적인 것이라면, 그것은 괜찮으며 장려되어야 한다. ③ 유감스럽게도 그것은 드문 일이다. 많은 경우 결국 꼬리표가 붙여지는 사람은 의욕이 부족하고 자기 훈련이 부족한 학생들이다. ④ 결국 그 학생은 그 꼬리표가 된다. ⑤ 만약 어떤 학생에게 그가 분위기를 망치는 사람이라고 아주 자주 말하면, 그는 그 호칭에 굴복하여 훨씬 더 심하게 그런 사람이 될 것이다. ⑥ 만약 어떤 학생에게 그 녀가 끊임없이 모든 사람들의 생활을 힘들게 하는 못된 여자아이라고 말하면, 그녀는 결국 훨씬 더 심하게 그런 사람이 될 것이다. ⑦ 이 아이들은 우리가 긍정적으로 영향을 미쳐야 하는 바로 그 학생들인데, 그들에게 꼬리표를 붙이고 언제나 그 꼬리표를 재확인함으로써는 그것을 달성하지 못할 것이다.

Practice 03. 다음 글의 밑줄 친 부분 중, 문맥상 낱말의 쓰임이 적절하지 않은 것은?

❶ As one of many examples of complexity of motivationally anchored instruction, motivation is ① governed to a large extent by emotion. ❷ A person working at a task feels frustrated and stops. ❸ Another person working at a task feels joy and continues. ❹ But what brings out a response of frustration or joy may differ across cultures, because cultures differ in their ② definitions of novelty, hazard, opportunity, gratification, and so forth. ❺ It is also quite ③ possible for another person with a different set of cultural beliefs to feel frustrated at a task and yet continue with further determination. ❻ Depending on the cultural groups with which a person identifies, illness, for example, may be understood from the perspective of germs, God, anxiety, chance, or one's moral failure, and a person's emotional response to illness will ④ reject these beliefs. ❼ Cultural groups ⑤ vary in their beliefs about the meaning of emotional experiences, expressions, and behaviors.

* anchored 입각한, 뿌리박은

❶ 아동에게 자기가 좋아하지 않는 음식을 먹도록 강요하거나, 가장 좋아하는 음식에 대한 접근을 완전히 제한하는 것은, 평생 동안 음식에 대한 선호와 건강에 대해 부정적인 영향을 줄 수 있다. ❷ 아동에게 특정한 음식을 먹게 하려는 시도가 저녁 식탁을 지배권을 얻기 위한 싸움터로 바꿀 때, 승자는 없다. ❸ 아동이 음식을 먹어 보고 그것에 대한 결정을 내릴 수 있는 공정한 기회를 가지도록, 음식은 객관적이면서 위협적이지 않은 방식으로 제공되어야 한다. ❹ 아동이 가장 좋아하는 '정크' 푸드에 대한 접근을 제한하거나 섭취를 금지하는 것은, 그 음식에 대한 그들의 흥미와 기회가 있을 때 그러한 음식의 섭취를 강화시키는 경향이 있다. ❺ 그러한 금지는 아동으로 하여금 그 음식을 훨씬 더 많이 원하도록 만들므로, 의도된 것과 정반대의 효과를 갖는다.

Historical evidence points to workers being exploited by employers in the absence of appropriate laws. This means that workers are not always compensated for their contributions – for their increased productivity – as economic theory would suggest. Employers will be able to exploit workers if they are not legally controlled. Thus, the minimum wage laws may be the only way to prevent many employees from working at wages that are below the poverty line. This point of view means that minimum wage laws are a source of correcting for existing market failure, enhancing the power of markets to create efficient results.

Historical evidence points to workers being exploited by employers in the absence of appropriate laws. This means what workers are not always compensated for their contributions – for their increased productivity – as economic theory would suggest. Employers will be able to be exploited workers if they are not legally controlled. Thus, the minimum wage laws may be the only way to prevent many employees for working at wages that are below the poverty line. This point of view means what minimum wage laws are a source of correcting for existing market failure, enhanced the power of markets to create efficient results.

It is important to remember what a misunderstanding is never ended by an argument but by a sympathetic desire to see the other person's view. As Buddha said, "Hatred is never ended by hatred but by love." Here is an example: Pat Duffy was selling cars for General Motors. If a buyer had made a negative remark about the car he was sold, Pat would get upset at the customer. He would talk back to the customer and win lots of arguments, but he didn't sell many cars. Finally, he learned to handle the customers and here is how. If a customer said, "This GM car is no good! I would rather buy a Ford car," Pat, instead of arguing, saying, "Ford cars are good, and it is a fine company." This made the customer speechlessly. There was no room for argument. Now instead of wasting time to argue about Ford cars, Pat got off that subject and concentrated on the GM cars he was selling.

The City of Copenhagen has been restructuring its street network for several decades, removed driving lanes and parking places in a deliberate process to create better conditions for bicycle traffic. Year by year the inhabitants of the city has been invited to bike more. The entire city is now served by an effective system of bike paths, separated by curbs from sidewalks and driving lanes. City intersections have bicycle crossings painted in blue and, together with special traffic lights for bicycles that turn green six seconds before cars are allowed moving forward, makes it considerably safer to cycle around the city. In short, a whole-hearted invitation has been giving to cyclists, and the results are reflected clearly in patterns of use. Bicycle traffic doubled in the period from 1995 to 2005, and in 2008 statistics showed that 37% of personal transport to and from work was by bicycle. The goal is to increase this percentage considerably in the years to come.

As a teacher, you will hear pupils to be labelled by other teachers, and there are a lot of labels that are employed. If the label is a positive one, then that is fine and should be encouraged. Sadly that is a rarity; it is the poorly motivated and poorly self-disciplined pupils who often end up to be labelled. Eventually the pupil becomes the label. If you tell a pupil often enough what he is a disruptive influence, he will surrender to the title and become it even more. If you tell a pupil that she is a naughty little girl who constantly makes life difficult for everyone, she will eventually become that even more. These are the very pupils we need to be positively affected and we will not achieve that by sticking a label on them and reaffirmed that label at every turn.

As one of many examples of complexity of motivationally anchored instruction, motivation is governed to a large extent by emotion. A person worked at a task feels frustrating and stops. Another person worked at a task feels joy and continues. But that brings out a response of frustration or joy may differ across cultures, because of cultures differ in their definitions of novelty, hazard, opportunity, gratification, and so forth. It is also quite possible for another person with a different set of cultural beliefs to feel frustrating at a task and yet continue with further determination. Depending on the cultural groups which a person identifies, illness, for example, may be understood from the perspective of germs, God, anxiety, chance, or one's moral failure, and a person's emotional response to illness will reflect these beliefs. Cultural groups vary in their beliefs about the meaning of emotional experiences, expressions, and behaviors.

Forcing a young child eating foods she or he does not like, or totally restricted access to favorite foods, can have lifelong negative effects on food preferences and health. When attempts to get a child eating a particular food turn the dinner table into a battleground for control, nobody wins. Foods should be offered in an objective, nonthreatening way so the child has a fair chance to try the food and making a decision about it. Restricting access to, or prohibiting intake of, children's favorite "junk" foods tends to strengthen their interest in the foods and consumption of those foods when they get a chance. Such prohibitions have the opposite effect of that intended because of they make kids want the foods even more.
